PRICE FIVE CENTS

KING HURT, BUT INJURY IS SLIGHT

EDUCATOR IN BAD FALL

Accident While Supervising Principal Worked on Schoolhouse—Has Narrow Escape

The sensational report received here of a fatal injury to Supervising Principal King was proved exaggerated when the Star-Bulletin's Honolulu correspondent this afternoon sent to this paper the following:

HONO, Hawaii, April 5.—Supervising Principal King, while helping a carpenter at work on Kealahou schoolhouse, fell sixteen feet to the ground below. He suffered a broken wrist and bruised knee. His escape was a narrow one. He is now recovering.

Charles E. King, supervising principal of the North and South Kona and the Kau public schools was reported fatally injured as the result of an automobile accident that happened, according to the meager report received, on Thursday morning.

The news of the accident came to Waldemar Muller, the coffee planter who is visiting the city, in a letter received yesterday from his daughter, Miss Gussie Muller, teacher in Honolulu school. As it was mentioned only in a postscript, Mr. Muller takes it that his daughter had just heard of the accident about mail closing time.

It was stated that Mr. King went over a bluff in a machine and had his back, an arm and a leg broken. Such injuries would imply that the accident was probably fatal.

At the education office no news of the accident was received until the Star-Bulletin reporter, going there for information, gave the first tidings of it to Interpreter T. M. Gibson, who was horrified at the report. Mr. King was expected at the office every moment, as he intended coming to town by this morning's steamer.

Nicholas Tayan, a Filipino laborer with Waimanalo sugar plantation, is an inmate of Queen's hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the left hip, which, while it may not be attended with fatal results, is sufficiently serious to keep him under treatment for some days.

Deliberately flying away a portion of the leaden missile placed at the end of a large cartridge, Tayan is a victim of an explosion that followed, the bullet entering his body.

Tayan claims that he wanted the powder contained in the brass shell for the purpose of making a fuse. He says that he had no idea that he was dealing with concentrated dynamite in his attempt to break into the shell.

The man was found lying alongside the road and was later conveyed by a Japanese in an auto to the cottage occupied by Filipinos on Millani street. From there the man was removed to the hospital.

REAPPORTMENT BILL WILL BE CHANGED

Senator Wirtz will introduce a substitute reapportionment bill to take the place of the one advocated by Senator Brown.

He made this statement today and after a conference with several of the senators, who declared they were in favor of re-apportionment along the lines he suggests.

The substitute bill will be framed as outlined several days ago in the Star-Bulletin, and will be based on the population as shown by the census of 1910.

"I shall carry out my plan," he stated today, "and the bill will pass. There is no question in my mind but what the re-apportionment as I have figured it is correct."

A number of the senators stated that they were heartily in accord with the proposition of having a substitute bill, as there is a danger of Senator Brown's, they say, not being approved by the governor.

DRASTIC AUTO BILL MEETING NO OPPOSITION

Committee Holds Public Hearing but No Automobile Drivers or Owners Attend

Not a single automobile or motorcycle owner or representative of such was present last night at what was intended to be a public meeting of the house health and police committee on the most drastic and important proposed piece of police legislation likely to come up at the present session. The committee has under consideration house bill 215, intended to govern in every way the handling of automobiles and motorcycles.

One proposal made at the meeting last evening was to include a clause making it a felony for a driver who, after injuring a pedestrian, does not stop and go to the injured one's aid. Another clause which Chairman Coney favors and which probably will be inserted in the bill, will set a heavy penalty for the driver who, while under the influence of liquor attempts to manipulate a car on the streets.

Nowhere in the territory, according to this measure, will a speed of more than 25 miles an hour be permitted. On city streets—and every village or hamlet is included under the denotation—the speed limit will be fifteen miles; automobiles must go no faster than ten miles an hour past street crossings, must come to a full stop if streetcars are at the intersection unloading or taking passengers, and in stopping on downtown thoroughfares must hug the curb, with the right-hand rear wheel within eighteen inches of the sidewalk.

The bill also specifically provides for motor car lights from sunset to sunrise, for registration numbers on the front lights; how they shall be painted and their size; also on the rear, fixed not less than 20, nor more than 40 inches from the ground, and prohibits the appearance on the streets of cars not meeting these requirements; also stiff penalties for infractions. Motorcycles must carry specially displayed numbers.

Which Shall It Be, Mr. Legislator?

(Seventy-five thousand dollars is asked the 1913 legislature for the establishment of vocational training to fit Hawaii's boys and girls for honest, useful, progressive lives.)

NOTED AVIATOR NOW MAUNA KEA THIRD OFFICER

Capt. James V. Martin Abandons Flying Temporarily. Says U. S. Is Lagging

One of the foremost aviators of two continents, an inventor of aeroplanes and an instructor of aerial navigation, Capt. James V. Martin has given up the more dangerous pastime of flying and now trends the bridge of an inter-island steamer as third officer of the Mauna Kea.

MR. JONES, PLEASE CLAIM YOUR OPIUM!

Twelve bladders of opium, discovered in a suitcase belonging to "J. Jones, room 23," came into the hands of Customs Inspector Taylor yesterday when he was engaged in checking up the baggage of passengers on the Pacific Mail liner Sierra. On the passenger list there was no mention made of J. Jones. A clue which may, however, lead to the apprehension of the smuggler was found in a pair of travel-stained trousers which were in the suitcase. In a pocket of the trousers were found several papers, among which were mariner's annotations. It is thought that between here and Japan Captain Zeeder of the Sierra may be able to identify the handwriting on the papers and so detect the smuggler.

The idea of smuggling in the "hop" in trunks and suitcases is becoming such a popular one that the customs officials have been forced to insist upon an identification by all passengers of baggage to be brought ashore. If this is not done, it is explained, trunks full of the contraband article could easily be lost in the confusion and checked past the customs barrier.

Smokers of opium, dwellers in the delightful and phantasmal land of the "hop" dream, will find still another obstacle placed in the way of the use of the drug if Senator Chillingworth's bill, which is now being drafted by the attorney general, should pass the legislature. The bill proposes to make the smoking of opium, whether the article be stamped or unstamped, a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $50. Attorney General W. W. Thayer gave his opinion this morning that the bill is constitutional, and it will be presented to the legislature in due form within the next few days.

PRATT COMMENDS JUDD'S MEASURE

Characterizing Senate Bill No. 111 as the most important piece of health legislation that has come before the legislative body in years, Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the board of health this morning pointed out the great benefits that could be derived from the passage of the measure.

"To put the matter briefly," Dr. Pratt explained, "the bill provides for such important things as the laying of sewers, the water system, removal of the congested conditions in various parts of the city. The importance of the reforms that would be possible cannot be overestimated. In the Palama and Moiliili districts in particular, the features provided for in the bill would be a great boon. The bill provides for the systematic 'cleaning-up' of those districts in which the white plague is now bred. It also provides for the prevention of water-borne diseases, such as typhoid and cholera."

The bill calls for an appropriation of $5,000, and fixes the salaries of the commissioners at $500 a year. Senator Baldwin, on introducing the measure, requested that it be immediately printed so that it may be considered Tuesday when the committee of the whole takes up the other two utility commission bills.

SHOTS TO FIRE

Why should the tariff on sugar be attacked? Hear what the Trust says. The following appears in the last annual report of the American Sugar Refining Company: "In this connection we desire to again call attention to the fact that while the prices of nearly all commodities have increased very materially in the last decade, the price of sugar has not. As compared with practically all other food products, sugar has increased the least. This statement is verified by an examination made by the department of commerce and labor, the results of which have recently been published in a bulletin, No. 110, of the united bureau of labor."

WHAT PROMISE MADE BRECKONS?

And now Attorney-general W. W. Thayer is asked to arise and explain. As an aftermath of his fight against the Hawaii probe commission bill when it was before the house, Representative Archer Irwin this morning introduced a resolution calling on the attorney general to say whether he has employed outside legal aid since he went into office, the first of the year, what remuneration he has promised such extra professional aid, and if he hasn't promised any definite remuneration, "what amounts you expect to allow them to be paid?"

Though the name of Robert W. Breckons is not mentioned, the inquiry is pointed directly his way. Evidently Dr. Irwin and his friends are still convinced that Breckons has been promised large emoluments for his service in investigating the county auditor affair at Hilo. That charge was made openly by Dr. Irwin during the fight over the probe bill in the house.

The resolution, numbered 115, and which was referred to the judiciary committee, reads in full as follows:

"Resolved, That the attorney general be and he is hereby requested to inform the house as to whether he has employed outside legal aid, and if so, what amounts you expect to allow them to be paid."

"I have you engaged the services of any attorney or attorneys, or of other persons, during your administration of the office of attorney general, for the purpose of investigating any matter pertaining to said office, and if so, please state the name of each person of persons, the duties or purposes for which engaged, and the compensation agreed to be paid each respectively. It is positive agreement as to compensation has been made, please state what amounts you expect to allow them to be paid."

"If you have engaged the services of persons other than those heretofore regularly connected with your office, please state what reasons, if any, existed, to render the engagement of the services of such other person or persons necessary or expedient?"

LANE TO SEE MCCANDLESS NEXT MONDAY

Governorship Situation Is Unchanged by Some Recent Developments

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—The gubernatorial situation, as far as the governorship of Hawaii, is expected to be here Monday, and Secretary of the Interior Lane has arranged to see him. Complaints against Mr. McCandless's character have been made to Secretary Lane but not under oath. The governorship situation is so far unchanged by these developments.
C. S. ALBERT.

WALLER HURRIES OFF TOWARD WASHINGTON

Gilbert J. Waller, candidate for appointment as governor at the hands of President Wilson, left for the coast in the Sierra this morning. Mr. Waller is said to be on his way to Washington, though he did not make public his intentions. Shortly after he returned from Washington a few days ago came the news that Wilson and Lane wished to see the governorship candidates, and it is believed either that Bertram G. Rivenburgh, who is watching Waller's interests in Washington, has advised him to come back to the capital, or that he has received more direct word from Mr. Lane.

It was reported this afternoon that Mayor Fern has sent his application to President Wilson for the governorship of Hawaii.

COMMITTEE WILL CLOSE RELIEF FUND SOON

The Relief Fund Committee is still receiving subscriptions from the other islands, but announced that it was made today that the committee will close the fund next week. Generous response from every island in the group has met the appeal for local assistance for the flood sufferers, and it is felt that Hawaii has done its share splendidly, and that no further canvass should be made. Subscriptions how on the way or being arranged will be received and acknowledged.

Donations are still coming to the Flood Relief Fund Committee and this morning's mail from the other islands brought in several generous contributions.

The Star-Bulletin has received notice of the following since last acknowledgment:

Maul Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Societies, $51.00
Friend, 10.00
Chairman Westervelt of the committee reported the following new subscriptions:

Honolulu Gas Co., $25.00
F. F. Woodford, 2.00
With the contribution from Maui, sent to Governor Frear, was the following letter:

Wailuku, Maui, April 4, 1913.
Hon. Walter F. Frear, Governor Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu:
Sir—Herewith enclosed please find draft No. 1764 of the Maui Aid Association for fifty-one ($51) dollars in your favor, to be applied for the Ohio and Indiana Relief Fund. This amount was collected from the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Societies of the islands of Maui, Molokai and Lanai, held at the Kaahumanu Church last Sunday, March 30, 1913, and also from members of Hawaiian Church Association assembled at said convention. The donors would respectfully request your excellency to apply said amount for said relief fund. I remain, dear sir, very truly yours,
JOHN W. KALUA,
Moderator of Hawaiian Evangelical Church Association of Maui County, Territory of Hawaii.

After being favorably reported on by the committee, the substitute bill introduced by Senator Coke to give Honolulu a new charter has been referred to the judiciary committee of the senate. This action was taken today on suggestion of Senator Coke, who stated that there were a few legal points which should be straightened out before the bill pass second reading.

BOURBONS STAND BY WILSON

Democrats on Ways and Means Committee Agree to Support Chief

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee have unanimously agreed to support whatever sugar tariff revision program President Wilson stands upon, either for free sugar or for a low duty, with duty to be eliminated entirely in three years.

POWERS UNITE IN DEMONSTRATION AT SCUTARI

[Associated Press Cable]
CETTINJE, Montenegro, April 5.—The greatest naval demonstration of the Powers for years is in progress in an effort to force Montenegro to abandon her storming of Scutari. Austrian, Italian, British and German and French warships are blockading Antivari, the port on the Adriatic sea which commands entrance to the channel at Scutari.

POWERS SPLIT OVER CHINA

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—Several of the powers, in response to Secretary of State Bryan's note, have agreed to concur in the recognition of the new Republic of China on April 5. Others have indicated that they will probably refuse to do so, believing that the stability of the young republic is still unproved.

PARIS BANDIT CHEATS GALLOWS

PARIS, France, April 5.—A sensational tragedy was recorded here today when the anarchist-bandit, La-combe, one of the desperadoes of the capital, escaped in an unexplained manner from his cell. When the guards discovered him, he had made his way to the prison roof. As the guards rushed toward him with guns raised, the bandit saluted them ironically and then dove head-first from the roof into the stone court yard. He was instantly killed.
